Introduction

The Problem Gambling Treatment and Support (PGTS) Fund began FY25 with an allocation of $2,306,899. In September 2024, an additional $315,732 was approved, bringing the total appropriation to $2,622,631. Total FY25 revenue reached $5,495,094, sourced from sports betting, casinos, historical horse racing, unclaimed prizes, and interest.

There remains a growing demand for problem gambling prevention, treatment, and recovery services across Virginia. In FY25, $2,531,857 was spent on such services. The projected need for FY26 is approximately $4.3 million, aimed at expanding services statewide, supporting the Virginia Problem Gambling Council, and strengthening service oversight.

 - Historical Horse Racing Machines: $477,829

 - Development of a high school curriculum and a young adult-focused campaign launching in FY26.
- Evaluation: $100,000 was allocated for service evaluation, but delays pushed some spending into FY26. Final report is expected the end of July 2025.

- Community Engagement: Conferences and summits were held in Southwestern and South Central Virginia, drawing over 250 attendees.
- Advisory Committee (PGTSAC): Met quarterly in FY25, coordinated by the Prevention Coordinator whose position is funded by the PGTS fund.

Best Practices in Treating Problem Gambling

Treating gambling disorder generally includes a combination of therapy, support, and sometimes medication when co-occurring conditions occur.

1. Assessment and Diagnosis
 - Include an initial assessment to determine if there may be a potential problem.
 - Comprehensive evaluation to understand the severity and underlying issues.
2. Psychotherapy
 - Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT): Research shows this to be most effective; helps patients recognize and change harmful gambling behaviors and thoughts. (Eriksen, J. et al., 2023)
 - Motivational Interviewing: Enhances motivation to change. (Petry et al., 2017; Cowlshaw et al., 2012) Appears most effective when combined with CBT. (Eriksen, J. et al., 2023)
3. Support Groups
 - Gamblers Anonymous and similar peer-support groups provide social support and accountability (Hodgins et al., 2009).
4. Financial Counseling and Social Support
 - Helps manage money and reduce financial harm caused by gambling in conjunction with psychotherapy or other supports.
5. Integrated Treatment
 - Address co-occurring mental health or substance use disorders concurrently (Yarbaksh et al., 2023).

Conclusion

FY25 saw increased revenue and service expansion across Virginia. Continued funding growth is essential to meet statewide demand and sustain momentum into FY26. Further budget and expenditure details are outlined in Tables 1 and 2.
